Remarks by Consultant. This candidate informs me that instead of scarlet fever he had "Rheumatic Scarlet Fever" when he was young and was in bed 5 days with it. His heart appears to be normal now. During each of the 40 MM tests his pulse faded to the point where it was just barely perceptible. He seems to have no disability from the wasting of the gastrocnemius muscle of the left side and no neurological signs other than a decreased ankle reflex on that side. He is of a nervous disposition
